POINT OF USE :

A Point of Use (POU) setup includes multiple inventory storage stations at or near different parts of the production line.

After the initial floor analysis, POU locations are installed to decrease material transaction time, increase accessibility and convenience, allow reallocation of resources to other critical needs, and lower carrying costs.

SUPERMARKET :

A Supermarket Setup is a central stocking location for inventory commonly used throughout your facility.

Typically, supermarkets are set up in commodity and part number order, commodity and size order, or alphanumerically based on what works best for your work force.

VMI :

Working with Resolux's Vendor Managed Inventory (VMI) solutions, means placing your trust in the best possible hands.

Resolux Group's VMI solutions simplify your supply chain, facilitate capacity growth, streamline business processes, and enhance profitability.

Resolux Group adapts to your needs, delivering efficiently through a consistent, yet flexible supply of materials.
